SEE SEVEN PLANS

For the Church Street School But School Board Reaches No Decision.

THE ARCHITECTS WERE THERE.

To Point Out the Advantage of Their Designs.

The board of education met Monday night and inspected the plans of seven architects and listened to their presentation of the special features and advantages of their respective designs.

Half an hour was allowed each man and when the hearing was over it was after 11 o'clock and further action in the selection of a plan was deferred

until the return of the president of the board, Mr. Shellabarger, from Chicago. In making this announcement

Mr. Shellabarger stated that the plans were all commendable and that several of them impressed the board as being especially fine. There was no indication, however, that the choice had been narrowed down to one of two or three plans.

The following architects present were

the following: Messrs. M. G. Patterson,

R. O. Rosen, I. D. Stone of this city;

Samuel Bullard of Springfield; F. S.

Allen of Joliet; A. L. Pillsbury of Chicago; and William Reeves of Revere, Mass. The last named gentleman is member of the state board of architects. It is understood that a representative of the board of education will be present at the meeting of the board

Monday night but he did not appear

at the board meeting.

It had been expected that another meeting would be held this morning at which time most if not all of the gentleman could be summoned for further explanations in case the choice were reduced to two plans. President Shellabarger had not expected to go to Chicago until Tuesday night but a telegram received last Monday demanded

his presence there early Tuesday morning. Mr. Shellabarger and Miss

Shellabarger accompanied him.

had lived in that and Macon counties his life. He lived in Decatur for the Mother of Tona Dunlap Goes Insane As Result of Trial.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT FISHER.

Sunday Morning Blaze Wipes Out Valuable Property.

Aledo, Ill., Jan. 26.—The long strain of the trial of Tona Dunlap, who was charged with the murder of Albie Dool, has caused her mother to go insane. Ever since Miss Dool's death Mrs. Dunlap has been constantly working to save her daughter from being convicted of the crime. She was in constant attendance at the trial and as the legal proceedings dragged on into weeks the effect on Mrs. Dunlap was plainly noticeable. Even the acquittal of her daughter did not save her reason.

FIRE AT FISHER.

Destroyed Much Valuable Property Sunday Morning.

Fisher, Ill., Jan. 26.—About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning a fire broke out in the main building occupied by J. W. Kenward's dry goods department and burned the building occupied by the grocery department. The estimated loss on that building is about $5,000. Insurance $2,500. The fire extended north and south and burned the building owned by D. B. Bryant and occupied by Charles Kidd, confectionery, the estimated loss on the building being $800. Insurance $100. Charles Kidd's loss is $1,000. Insurance $700. It also burned the old vacant bank building owned by P. D. Veinun, on which there was no insurance. The building on the north, occupied by Dan Hazen, was materially damaged, but with great effort was saved. Across the street the flames broke out on the plate glass in the E. H. Kelley and Simon Dreyfus and Mrs. A. C. McReynolds buildings.

The entire contents of the burned structures was a total loss, nothing being saved. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. At this time the insurance companies interested cannot be ascertained. This is the second disastrous fire within a year. The total is about $8,000. The burned buildings were all frame.

Head Cut Off.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—With his head severed from his body, the remains of Jacob Bell were found beside the Chicago and Alton railroad tracks, a short distance from here last evening, walking along the tracks to visit his sister, Mrs. C. M. Whitney. He was subject to epileptic fits and it is possible that he was overcome and fell upon the tracks, where, taken by any of the trainmen, he was run over. The deceased was 59 years old.

Charleston, Ill., Jan. 26.—Anti-saloon league day was observed here by all the Protestant preachers, delivering temperance sermons and urging the voters of the congregation to write to their members of the state legislature asking them to support the local option bill. The interest was deepened by the fact that the last day of the winter session of the legislature is the day of the anti-saloon league. The ministers of the churches in the city are at the head of the anti-saloon league, and the attempt at assault on the side of the Rev. Lacey by two drunken men last night.

PRAISE FOR JOHN IMBODEN

Address at Ford County Institute Captured the Farmers.

At the Ford County Farmer's Institute being held in Roberts the forenoon session was given up to the subject of "Cattle Feeding and Selling," handled by Mr. John G. Imboden of Decatur. He is one of the best practical men in the country to talk upon this subject. He is a butcher, farmer and cattle feeder, a thorough business man who keeps careful account of all his work and utilizes many a cattlemen, knows in figures whether he is making or losing money and how much, in handling any bunch of cattle—at least he knows as soon as his commission man hands him the account of the sale. He is in the business to make money and he will handle whatever kind of cattle he believes there is the most money in. Not only does he have a large store of successful experience but he knows how to tell it to the farmers. When he opens his mouth you get a very plain, clear statement of the facts, without an unnecessary word, without wandering from his subject, or the use of any but the most easily understood terms. He speaks very readily, has any part of his information on tap at the first stroke, and yet he talks distinctly and deliberately enough for every one to catch what he says. He likes to answer questions and has something to answer. He likes to have a good part of his time given to discussion rather than simply to give a formal address. This is the type of speaker to bring into the institute—Bloomington Panograph.

AMICABLE SETTLEMENT.

Judge O. W. Smith Authorizes The Compromise of a Claim.

In the county court Monday Judge O. W. Smith authorized the compromise of a claim in the estate of Sam A. Stover. Near Casner last summer while working with a threshing outfit a young man named Stover accidentally stepped into the moving machinery and his leg was crushed its full length so that he died in a short time. The threshing outfit was owned by J. J. and C. A. Harpstrite. They were willing to pay the funeral expenses of the young man, although they felt that they were in no way responsible for the accident. The father of the deceased said that he felt it would not be just to bring suit for the death of his son which he regarded as purely accidental. In order that the settlement might be in due form and legally in the approval of the court was sought.

CAUGHT AT THE ANNEX.

Young Men Charged With Stealing A Bicycle.

Last night police officers Kossel and Imboden arrested Minor Osborn, aged 18, and David Farr, aged 20 years, charged with stealing a bicycle. They caught their guilt and were locked in the county jail. Last November a bicycle was stolen from the Washash station and sold to Greenberg, the pawnbroker. A young man who gave his name as Charles Morgan offered the wheel for $3 and the pawnshop man said his name was Charles Morgan. Last night they were at the jail annex and through the bars of the outer door were visiting with some women held there. The police officers came upon them unexpectedly and recognized them, and charged them in. They will answer the charge of grand larceny.

The Germ of Laziness

has been discovered by Dr. Charles W. Stiles, of Washington, D. C. He says laziness is a disease, and can be cured. The trouble is, he continues, is identifying it, and prescribing the proper remedies. In most cases "surroundings" when there is less pronounced than for this reason, we imagine that everybody in town is lazy, the shoe store to get some of the shoes that have the price sliced off from them. Their "Exit Sale" of shoes begins this morning, and the inducements are so alluring that there is no doubt about everyone around that store having to work overtime for some days to come.

False Alarm.

There was a story in the circuit court room Monday afternoon that the Whitmer steam plant had been closed because no fuel could be had. That story was repeated over and over again but there was nothing in it. The steam was shut off for an hour or two during the afternoon but that was because some light repairs are being made in the plant. Mr. Whitmer said that he thought that he would take advantage of the moderate weather and repair some little leaks before they became big ones.

"Order is Heaven's first law; And this contest, Some are and must be greater than the rest."

A good storekeeper must be a good housekeeper! We have learned to take our medicine twice a year and are ready for a dose now. All the left-overs of the season must "get" without further ceremony. There is quite a lot, and to them we have added a large quantity of brand new shoes, for we are to make this sale a "startler." We'll make it worth everybody's while to carry off an armful.
